8:00 A.M. - 12:00 P.M.

Success with Strong-Willed Kids

Is there any hope for this kid?

Yes! You can be successful, and Love and Logic can help.

Over the past five decades, Jim has helped millions of parents and educators... worldwide...change their lives with Love and Logic. His witty and wise presentations combine story-telling with down-to-earth solutions, leaving audiences with the tools they need for success with even the most challenging children and teens.

Love and Logic is not a set of impersonal techniques. It's a way of reaching into hearts and minds...and loving kids in ways that change their lives and ours.

Jim Fay

Click to see him in action! ->

Jim Fay is one of America's most sought-after public speakers. His dynamic presentations have revolutionized the way professionals and parents approach working with children. He has received international acclaim for his ability to translate theory into practical strategies. People leave his presentations empowered to use his techniques immediately. The most common statement about his techniques is, "They're easy and they work!" Jim is a prolific writer and producer of training materials as well.

As co-founder of the Love and Logic Institute, Inc., Jim has developed the most extensive collection of training materials focused specifically on a philosophy of working with children. This philosophy is known as Love and Logic. It has fast become the philosophy of choice for professionals and parents who want to teach children to become responsible and resourceful. Jim is a master storyteller who teaches through real-life examples and anecdotes. His audiences marvel at the way time flies while they learn with him. Many participants say, "I just hate to see Jim's sessions come to an end. I could listen to him forever!"

DAY ONE CHARLES FAY, Ph.D. & JIM FAY Afternoon Session

Monday, June 19th, 2017

1:00 P.M. - 3:30 P.M.

Love and Logic = Fewer Power Struggles

Are you tired of power struggles and problems?

Love and Logic takes the fight out of parenting and teaching.

The truth: Arguments and power struggles steal our joy and lead to resentment and rebellion rather than respect and responsibility.

“Why would we waste even a single minute arguing or battling with kids?”

This question was posed by a father... and classroom educator... whose life was changed by Love and Logic.

Attend this session and see a father-son team demonstrate love for each other while providing powerful techniques for creating cooperative classrooms and homes.

Charles Fay, Ph.D.

Click to see him in action! ->

Charles Fay is a parent, internationally known consultant, and author. Thousands of educators, mental health professionals, and parents have profited from his wealth of practical, down-to-earth solutions to the most common and frustrating problems displayed by youth of all ages. These solutions come directly from years of research and experience serving severely disturbed youth and their families in psychiatric hospital, public school, and home settings.

Charles presents Love and Logic seminars and personal appearances throughout the nation. His audiences laugh and learn as they hear stories and examples illustrating his unique perspective on the Love and Logic approach to discipline. Many conference attendees have written comments such as, “The time went so fast...a very entertaining speaker” and “I’m so relieved that he gave us things we can actually use rather than lots of theory and impractical stuff.”

DAY ONE BRENDA BIRD Afternoon Session

Monday, June 19th, 2017

1:00 P.M. - 3:30 P.M.

Building Constructive Classrooms on a Foundation of Love, Logic & Laughter

For rookies and veterans, this session is designed for educators who want to polish and sharpen their teaching tools, perhaps even add some new ones to their toolboxes. Brenda has been using and sharing Love and Logic principles for 20 years with students, parents and teachers. She is a former Family Engagement Specialist for a large, culturally diverse suburban district. Brenda teaches at an alternative secondary school working with international students and American students who didn't thrive in the traditional educational model.

- Tune up your Love and Logic skills and drill deeper to find solutions with resistant students.
- Enjoy sharing and learning from others who are using Love and Logic tools every day.
- Discuss ways to engage families as fully equipped members of your team.
- Refresh old concepts and learn new ways to have a constructive classroom where laughter and learning can co-exist.
- Instill a growth mindset in reluctant learners.
- Bring your questions!

Brenda Bird

Click to see her in action! ->

Brenda, a small but mighty reformed drill sergeant, has been using and sharing Love and Logic for 20 years with her husband, three sons, her students and countless other parents and teachers. She shares openly and honestly how Love and Logic saved her life, lowered her blood pressure and made her a more effective, happier teacher. Think Erma Bombeck meets Jim Fay! (You may not know who Erma Bombeck is, but, Tina Fey just didn't seem to work!)

DAY ONE JEDD HAFER Afternoon Session

Monday, June 19th, 2017

1:00 P.M. - 3:30 P.M.

Parenting Defiant Children

One of our most-requested topics of all time!

Defiance can be incredibly frustrating. It can push our buttons and shut down our effectiveness. But what can we do about it?

Join Love and Logic speaker, comedian, 20-year troubled youth veteran and foster-adoptive parent, Jedd Hafer, as he spells out the important elements of dealing with defiant behavior. This fun, practical seminar will empower parents and professionals respond effectively to defiance & resistant behavior. From toddlers to young adults, from gifted kids to those with special needs, the real skills in this presentation will help.

Participants will laugh along as they:

- learn how to set better limits up front.
- learn to sidestep frustrating, unwinnable power struggles.
- hear immediate solutions and “big-picture” answers.
- learn what to do when they “don’t know what to do.”

Don’t miss it!

Jedd Hafer

Click to see him in action! ->

Jedd Hafer has been hand-picked by Jim Fay and Dr. Charles Fay for his outstanding speaking abilities as well as his extensive experience with very challenging kids. For more than 20 years Jedd has worked with severely troubled youth in treatment centers and alternative schools where he has witnessed time after time the effectiveness of Love and Logic skills. Jedd is a father of four kids, two who are adopted out of the foster care system. His experience with challenging kids fuels his flair for training professionals and parents. He has presented to schools and organizations in 42 states and 4 countries. As a former touring professional comic, Jedd’s presentations are always filled with humor and passion, blending his own hilarious style with solid Love and Logic techniques. Check out his latest webinar, Love and Logic Strategies for Kids with Hurtful Past and his latest book ‘The Pocket Grandpa’.

DAY TWO JOE MARTIN, Ed.D. All Day

Tuesday, June 20th, 2017

8:00 A.M. - 3:30 P.M.

Motivate to Educate

How many times have you heard the phrase, "I give up, Johnny just won't learn!"

So, what came first, education or motivation? Well, studies show that you can't teach a child anything unless you can first get the child to listen. That's where motivation comes into play.

The #1 question on most teachers' (and parents) mind is, "How do I motivate my child(ren)?" Ironically, the answer isn't as difficult as you may think.

The key to motivating your students is to first find out what motivates them, and then use that lethal weapon against them (in a positive way).

In his trademark, unique style, "America's #1 Educator Motivator," Dr. Joe, will show you ground breaking strategies on how to:

- Get students excited about learning and coming to class.
- Unlock the #1 key to motivating any student, regardless of his or her aptitude.
- Get students to accept responsibility for their own future (and success).
- Get students to take action without "lecturing" them.
- Get students to respect you and revere you as their "favorite" teacher.

So, if you think you've tried everything... think again. There's still hope to "motivate to educate."

Joe Martin, Ed.D.

Click to see him in action! ->

Dr. Joe Martin is an award-winning speaker, author, professor and retention expert. He's authored or co-authored seven books, including the top-selling Good Teachers Never Quit and Tricks of the Grade.

Dr. Martin holds a doctorate degree in curriculum development plus a master's degree in communication. Joe has worked as a trainer for a Fortune 500 company, for both the state and federal government in the field of public relations, including a position as Communications Director for the Florida Governor's Office.

In spite of being reared in one of the toughest inner-city ghettos in Miami, FL, Joe started his first business at the age of 22 and his second at the age of 26. Professor Martin became the youngest, tenured-earning faculty member ever hired to teach at a state university in Florida at the age of 24.

He's now regarded as "The Educator's Educator" and the country's leading expert on new teacher retention and student motivation issues.

DAY TWO LARRY KERBY Morning Session

Tuesday, June 20th, 2017

8:00 A.M. - 12:00 P.M.

Why You Get Upset With Your Kids and What To Do About It

Do you find yourself getting angry with your children or students? Do you wonder why you still want to yell even though you know it is less effective? You do not get angry at what your children do, you get angry at what you tell yourself about what your children do! Take action by participating in an engaging and life altering discussion where you will learn:

- Why you get angry and how to break the cycle.
- How to change the emotional climate in your home or classroom instantly.
- How to create powerful connections with your children.
- The payoff and cost for hanging on to detrimental habits.

Larry Kerby

Click to see him in action! ->

Larry Kerby, MBA is a sought after entertaining and engaging speaker. He helps parents and teachers to create more joy, peace and happiness by understanding their role with children. He teaches effective, practical and proven parenting techniques that parents and teachers can take away and start using immediately. He is the author of the "Master Your Emotions" seminar series. Larry is also a trained independent facilitator of the Love and Logic curricula.

DAY TWO JOSH SHIPP Afternoon Session

Tuesday, June 20th, 2017

1:00 P.M. - 3:30 P.M.

The Teen Training Manual You Never Got

Learn the tools, strategies and techniques for courageously dealing with even the most concerning challenges facing your teen. You will also learn about:

- How to handle “Acting Out” in a positive, trust building way.
- Getting your teen to listen and take action, without nagging.
- The ONE simple communication technique that provides an easy entry point into difficult conversations like sex, technology, drugs, depression, bullying, etc.
- Powerful techniques for turning ANY teenage confrontation into an opportunity for more trust, peace and respect... even if past episodes have left you feeling unappreciated, discouraged, afraid, angry, impatient and even resigned.

Josh Shipp

Click to see him in action! ->

Josh Shipp is a former at-risk foster kid turned teen advocate. Josh had a challenging childhood and bounced around in many different foster homes, until he had a handful of caring adults reach out to him. He now strives to pass this knowledge on and be that caring adult for kids like him. His documentary TV series TEEN TROUBLE (A&E) followed his ground-breaking work with teens. He is the author of the national bestseller “The Teen’s Guide to World Domination”, and was listed on Inc. Magazine’s 30 under 30 list. He’s worked with groups of parents, educators & mental health professionals plus has spoken to more than TWO Million teens live. Josh says, “Every kid is ONE caring adult away from being a success story.”

DAY THREE CHARLES FAY, Ph.D. All Day

Wednesday, June 21st, 2017

8:00 A.M. - 3:30 P.M.

Calmer Classrooms

Have you ever played “Whack-A-Mole” in the classroom?

If your classroom management system causes you to work harder than your students, there is a more effective alternative.

Would you like to spend most of your time inspiring... or most of it perspiring? If you'd like to spend more time enjoying your students and sharing your excitement about learning, join Dr. Charles Fay for a fun filled day of positive strategies for maintaining a calm and productive classroom.

You will also receive tools for...

- Demonstrating to your students that you are the best teacher on the planet (i.e., gaining their respect).
- Preventing or minimizing disruptions that interrupt the flow of instruction.
- Spending significantly less time providing consequences and other forms of discipline.
- Being that special person who gives students the hope they need to succeed in life.
- Taking good care of yourself so that you can remain a caring and enthusiastic leader.

Charles Fay, Ph.D.

DAY THREE NANCY THOMAS All Day

Wednesday, June 21st, 2017

8:00 A.M. - 3:30 P.M.

The Answers to RAD
and
Other Disruptive Behavior Disorders

This fun filled workshop will address some heavy stuff and lighten your load in class with simple, effective tools. You will take home skills that are research backed and proven to work with emotionally disturbed children. That means less stress, less wrinkles for you and more success for your entire class! Come laugh with Nancy as she shares:

- Understanding trauma and its effect on the brain.
- Classroom interventions that work with a trauma effected brain.
- Succeeding in being part of the healing team for a student.
- Building the conscience to stop the violence.

Nancy Thomas

Click to see her in action! ->

As a Professional Therapeutic Parent, Nancy Thomas' forty years of successful work with traumatized children helped her to develop her program, which is now used in homes, treatment facilities and schools around the world. She has worked tirelessly to improve the lives of children internationally. Her program is acclaimed for helping many types of emotional disorders, including Reactive Attachment Disorder (RAD), Early Childhood Trauma, Asperger's Syndrome (AS), Oppositional Defiant Disorder (ODD), PTSD and Bipolar Disorder. Many of her contemporaries have recognized her for her valiant and dedicated efforts specializing in attachment and conscience development with violent children.

Nancy also gives back to the worldwide community through the nonprofit group she founded, Stop America's Violent Youth (SAVY, Inc). She directs Family Bonding Camps for families with challenging children, and also conducts seminars and workshops to empower educators, parents, and mental health professionals.

Nancy is the author of: When Love Is Not Enough and Dandelion On My Pillow, Butcher Knife Beneath, co-author of The Handbook of Attachment Interventions published by Academic Press and numerous instructional DVDs and CDs.

Probably not. Your conference fee guarantees excellent speakers each day. The sessions are on a first-come, first-serve basis. We encourage you to arrive early each day to ensure a spot in the session of your choice.

FAQs

What if I make a wrong choice of speakers?

Please feel free to change the presentation you are attending, as long as there is room in another session. You need only to make a notation of your change on your reaction sheet.

How will I know where to find the session I want to attend?

The room schedule will be handed out at registration and detailed in your conference workbook. You will be advised of any changes.

Will people who are not attending the conference be able to have lunch with me?

Yes, friends and family are welcome to join any credentialed attendees at their own expense.

What if I have special diet needs?

There will be plenty of options to accommodate vegetarian diets and food allergies. Please notate on registration form.

When will I register for the college credit?

Forms describing the graduate-level credit process will be available at the conference. See page 15 for details.

What if I want a Certificate of Attendance but am not taking the class for credit?

Simply complete daily reaction sheets (found in the back of your workbook) to receive a certificate, and turn them into the Love and Logic Institute by July 31st, 2017.

How do I find Vail Cascade Resort?

Denver International Airport (DEN) and the Colorado Spring Airport (COS) are served by most major airlines nationwide and internationally. Regardless of which airport you choose, you'll have a scenic drive or shuttle ride to Vail, CO and take in the dramatic views. Vail is located in the central Rocky Mountains of Colorado, 120 miles west of Denver, approximately 2 hours from either airport by car.

When can I check into the resort? Will I have a problem if I don't get checked out of my room early on the last day of the conference?

Check-in time is 4:00 P.M. Checkout time is 11:00 A.M.

What is the cutoff date for room reservations at the resort?

The room block is good until May 28th, 2017 or until our room block is full.

What will I do if I have a problem with my lodging?

If for any reason you have problems with lodging registration, please contact us at 800-338-4065 and we will do our best to resolve the problem.

Does Love and Logic have childcare options at Vail Cascade Resort?

Please call us at 800-338-4065 for details about childcare options or visit this page for a list of options.

HIGH ALTITUDE AWARENESS

Eagle County has some of the most beautiful mountains in the country, and we hope you enjoy your visit, but some of the very features that make our county so attractive may cause problems. The average altitude in Vail is over 8,000 feet.

You will probably notice that your breathing is faster or deeper, you have an increased heart rate, and you may feel short of breath, especially when you exercise. This is the body's first and most effective response to altitude. Being in good physical condition has no bearing on one's ability to acclimate. 20%-30% of all visitors will have some altitude illness symptoms.

Ultraviolet rays from the sun are stronger at this altitude. No matter how tan you may be, you should use a sunblock with a minimum SPF rating of 15. Sunburn of the eyes is also a real danger. Wear sunglasses with UV protection, even on cloudy or overcast days.

How you can improve acclimation to altitude:

- Increase fluid intake — drink 8 to 12 glasses of water a day. Water and juices are better than tea, coffee, soft drinks or alcohol.
- Decrease salt intake.
- Increase carbohydrate intake, such as pasta, rice and pancakes. Decrease protein intake, such as steak and eggs.
- Reduce alcohol and caffeine — 1 drink at high altitude does the work of 2.
- Tranquilizers and sleeping pills slow down breathing and should be avoided.

Symptoms of altitude illness:

Mild Symptoms

Headache, nausea, poor appetite, run-down feeling, shortness of breath with exertion. Altitude illness feels very much like an allergy or the flu. We recommend Tylenol, Ibuprofen or Aspirin for headache; Dramamine or Emetrol for nausea and lots of water. These symptoms will usually go away in a day or two.

Moderate Symptoms

When a symptom such as a headache is not relieved by Tylenol, Ibuprofen or Aspirin, or if vomiting, raspy cough or weakness occur, we recommend you seek medical care.

Severe Symptoms

Weak cough, disoriented "leave me alone" feeling, too weak to eat or get up, fingernails or lips blue in color, shortness of breath at rest, balance and/or coordination problems — seek medical help IMMEDIATELY!
